MEMORANDUM

Complainant alleges that a judge from the United States District Court for the District of Columbia has engaged in conduct prejudicial to the effective and expeditious administration of the business of the courts. Specifically, complainant alleges that the subject judge improperly denied complainant's application to proceed in forma pauperis and failed to file complainant's underlying complaint. Complainant's allegations, however, do not provide any grounds for action against the subject judge.

Complainant alleges that the subject judge improperly denied the application to proceed in forma pauperis and failed to file complainant's underlying case. Those allegations, however, are direct challenges to the merits of the subject judge's ruling. The appropriate avenue to obtain relief from alleged erroneous rulings, however, is not a judicial misconduct proceeding. See 28 U.S.C. § 352(b)(1)(A)(ii) (providing for dismissal of a complaint that is "directly related to the merits of a decision or procedural ruling"); JUD. CONF. U.S., RULES FOR JUDICIAL-CONDUCT AND JUDICIAL-DISABILITY PROCEEDINGS 11(c)(1)(B) ("A complaint must be dismissed in whole or in part to the extent that the chief judge concludes that the complaint . . . is directly related to the merits of a decision or procedural ruling."). Challenges to the denial of leave to file the application to proceed in forma pauperis and the underlying complaint can be made in a petition for writ of mandamus before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit.

Thus, because the allegations are directly related to the merits of the subject judge's ruling, the complaint must be dismissed.¹

¹ Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 352(c) and JUD. CONF. U.S., RULES FOR JUDICIAL-CONDUCT AND JUDICIAL -DISABILITY PROCEEDINGS 18(a), complainant may file a petition for review by the Judicial Council for the District of Columbia Circuit. Any petition must be filed in the Office of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals within 35 days of the date of the Clerk's letter transmitting the dismissal Order and this Memorandum. Id. R. 18(b).
